

Piano and Violin

Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday

with Maggie Duncan

ABOUT THE LESSONS

Beginners and intermediate students of all ages are welcome, and will be taught simple classical technique for achieving a good sound. Students will learn to read and write music, and also to play by ear. An understanding of chords, harmony and musicianship is developed. Home practice is essential to achieve the most from the lessons. Students may enter for examinations at the Australian Music Examinations Board, develop skills for playing in a band or orchestra, or simply learn for leisure.

ABOUT THE TEACHER:

Maggie Duncan studied classical violin and piano. She holds an Associate Diploma from the London College of Music, and is an experienced Primary teacher with a degree of Master of Education from Monash University. She holds a graduate diploma in music education, and teaches instrumental music in schools.

Maggie pursues a love of Irish, Scottish, American and Australian traditional fiddle music. She can be found playing in dance bands, sessions and concerts around Melbourne and at folk festivals. Well known as a teacher of traditional fiddle, Maggie conducts regular fiddle workshops.
